

Grace Community Fellowship
Evangelical Presbyterian Church in Helena, Montana

Grace Community Fellowship was formed in 2012, mainly from a nucleus of people who came from PC(USA), and now it is an Evangelical Presbyterian Church located in the heart of downtown Helena, at 38 South Last Chance Gulch.

Helena is the capital city of Montana and was originally founded as a gold mining camp which became a wealthy area, contributing to its elaborate Victorian architecture. It's a vibrant small town with a population of 32,091 but boasts 83,058 in the greater Helena area and other nearby small communities. In addition, it is the seat for county, state, federal government allowing for excellent economic stability.

Montana's motto is "Big Sky Country." Helena lives up to it, being surrounded by the Rocky Mountains, three lakes, the Missouri River and multiple streams. One out of thirteen jobs in Montana are supported by tourism. Helena is situated between two stunning National Parks - Glacier and Yellowstone. It is known for its four seasons and low humidity.

The Helena area is a place for outdoor enthusiasts with large expansive areas for hunting, fishing, water and snow sports, camping, miles of trails for hiking and biking, three golf courses, multiple sport complexes for youth and adult sports plus other activities. Sporting events enjoyed are high school and college teams, legion baseball, rodeos, ice hockey and more.

Noted as one of the "best small arts communities in the United States," Helena is the home to the world-renowned Archie Bray Foundation for Ceramic Arts, the nationally noted Helena Symphony, the Myrna Loy Center, the Holter Museum, Grandstreet Theatre Company, along with two other professional companies, three ballet schools, an active jazz community, and many other arts organizations and businesses. The Symphony Under the Stars is a free evening, open-air concert held every summer, which draws over 10,000 to the Carroll College campus.

Education is representative in the Helena valley by three public and two private high schools, accompanying elementary and middle schools, Helena College University of Montana, Carroll College a private Catholic college.

We are in search of a Pastor who:

- Is excited about serving God!
- Is called by an inward motivation and an outward strong passion to show the Love of Christ.
- Is willing to lead people into a relationship with Christ.
- Is an effective preacher of the Word.
- Seeks the opportunity to help people when life is difficult and provide spiritual guidance.
- Is wise with spiritual wisdom and takes time to prepare daily for the work of a Pastor.
- Has the ability to console the hurting and help those in trouble.
- Honors the word of God by showing that they depend on God and his word.
- Is serious about being blameless to God.
- Is organized.
