Employment Opportunity

Evangelical Presbyterian Stone Church has an available position for a spirit-filled, part-time pastor who will bring energy, compassion and enthusiasm to our multi-age congregational family. We are a small mission/ministry- oriented congregation seeking Bible-based teaching and leadership. Our church is closely connected to the local community, and we desire a leader with a fresh perspective on how to continue to expand our ministry. Although we can only provide part-time employment at present, we are open to expanding that position to full-time if new growth allows for it. As a part-time pastor, your essential duties would be to preach on Sundays and provide pastoral care as needed. Other additional week-to-week duties and expectations are flexible, and our Session would be happy to negotiate over the specifics of your employment.

Our congregation is a tight-knit family that functions on mutual respect, love, and compassion. If you feel called to join us, you can find our church (and the available manse!) in the rural town of Caledonia, Western New York.
