Organization Description

Knox Ann Arbor exists in a university town and a world that is both beautiful and broken. Jesus lived, died, rose from the dead and is coming back to make this city and world wonderfully new. It is Knox’s aim, in the way they live, work, study, play, sleep and even die, to give their city a foretaste of what Jesus has solemnly sworn to do.

Knox is an Evangelical Presbyterian church in the historic Reformed tradition. They subscribe to the great Ecumenical creeds of the universal church—the Apostles’ Creed, Nicene Creed and Athanasian Creed. But they also subscribe to the Westminster Standards. These documents, from the 17th century, define our beliefs as Presbyterians within the context of the historic Christian faith.
