

- Are you passionate about utilizing technology to create ways for people to connect to the church and hear the gospel?
- Do you love finding new ways to communicate in an increasingly digital world?
- Are you a team builder who loves encouraging other people to develop and use their gifts?
- Would you enjoy working in a church staff environment that values friendship and fun as much as we do the hard work of ministry together?

If so, we would love to talk to you! Greentree Community Church (GTCC) is hiring for the position of full-time Director of Technology and Digital Communication. GTCC is a suburban congregation of roughly 1,000 adults and children, most of whom live in Kirkwood or the greater west county area of St. Louis.
